British Unionists Divide on Question of Taxing Foods

LONDON, Jan. 2.-The project of impos ng taxes on food imported into the British Isles, put forward by some of the leaders of the opposition in the House of ommons, has created such hopeless dis sensions in the unionist party as to render almost certain, it is said, the retention of power by the liberal government for the two years necessary to overcome the resistance of the House of Lords to the home rule bill.

On the other hand, the wrangles among the unionists afford some temptation to the government to make an appeal to the country on the chance of coming back to

This move is a course of action which has little likelihood of being sanctioned by the members of the Irish nationalist party because it would delay the passage of the home rule bill and would even risk the return of the unionists to office, thus shelving home rule altogether.

On the whole, therefore, the chances now appear to be that the ministers will decide against a dissolution of Parliament and will push on their legislative program, especially as David Lloyd-George the chancellor of the exchequer, has LONDON, Jan. 2.-The Balkan peace practically overcome his difficulties with envoys have decided, it was declared this the medical profession and has secured morning, to put the direct question to almost enough doctors to work the new
